

I GENERAL

We record with great sadness the death of Jocelyn Goodman whose years of part-time service to the Survey made her a greatly valued as well as a much loved colleague. The year also saw the resignation of Derek Davy and his departure to take up an appointment at the University of Cambridge. Mrs P. J. J.

the resignation, too, of Janet Whitcut to engage in full-time work with the Longman Lexicographic Unit. At the same time, we are happy to note the recruitment of new colleagues, all of them part-time: Sylvia Chalker, who has been with us for the whole session; Audrey Morris and Oonagh Sayce, who joined us in the summer.

A good number of re-employment periods are now being completed. It is

Dr V Kohonen (Finland)

Prof J D McCawley (Chicago)

Dr R R Mehrotra (Delhi)

Dr R Mohan (Hyderabad)

Mr P E Monnin (Geneva)

Dr A Nicolescu (Bucharest)

Mrs N G Ozerova (Kiev)

Prof W B Robinett (Minnesota)

Prof S Rot (Budapest)

Prof F Scott (Auckland)

Dr L E Smith (Honolulu)

Prof M Spevack (Münster)

Mrs I C Staicu (Romania)

Prof G Stein (Siegen)

~~Prof G Stein (Siegen)~~

~~Prof O Szemenóczy (Erciburg)~~

Mrs G Tottie (Stockholm)

Mr A Vermeire (Hasselt)

Mr G Watson (Cambridge)

~~Prof G Stein (Siegen)~~

Archibald Michie. There has been continued co-operation with Paul Procter, Robert Ilson, Janet Whitcut and others of the Longman Lexicographic team, degrees of formality in language usage. Two of the MA students, S Berge and J Brown, made use of Corpus data in their dissertations (see reports of proceeds and the definite article respectively).

Swartvik T. P. (1961) Journal of the Royal Society of Medicine 54: 1-10

